To Our Readers.

Any neglect on the part of our Carriers to deliver the STANDARD at the proper time and place will be promptly remedied on application at the Publication Office, next door to the Bank of British Columbia, Government Street.

The Daily Standard.

Saturday, September 24, 1870.

Special Advocate and Glosser.

In our issue of Thursday we concluded an article on the Franchise with the following sentence: "If such was made the qualification of the electors in the New Constitution, all would be satisfied, and every interest represented." This sentence taken with the context meant that if residential manhood suffrage were the qualification in the New Constitution, every one would be satisfied with the qualification, and the electors would represent all interests in the Colony. Whereas if a real estate, or if a real and personal property qualification were adopted the franchise would be exclusive—a portion of our people would not be represented on the electoral roll. The newspaper that is published in this city, on the same day as the STANDARD, took occasion to allude to the sentence quoted in yesterday's issue, but only to distort its meaning. It says: "No longer ago than Saturday, he alluded to it (the Constitution) in similar terms of unqualified condemnation; and yet he concludes his leading article yesterday by asserting that if "registered residential manhood * * * were made the qualification of the electors in the New Constitution, all would be satisfied, and every interest represented." What! The six-by-nine constitution satisfy all, and every interest be represented? So our contemporary after all his abuse of the New Constitution, on account of the smallness of the representation it proposes giving to the people, and the predominating and dangerous power, it would give to the Government, now thinks it will satisfy everybody, if only the qualification of electors (* * *) be in accordance with his dictatum." Now we must say that we never knew a more deliberate attempt to misrepresent the utterance of any one, than that made by the paper in question to misrepresent the STANDARD, and we feel satisfied that the people in town and country will arrive at the same conclusion. We need scarcely say on this occasion that the proposal to only put nine elective members in the Council is just as objectionable as ever it was; and we call on all the electors to support no candidate for the Legislative Council who will not insist on having the Council made entirely elective, with at least twenty-four members, and thirty if possible. The special advocate and glosser of despotic Government has also attempted to throw all the blame of delay in the proclamation of the New Constitution on Downing Street. Now we ask where is the proof that the delay was not caused by our local authorities? Our opinion is that it was; consequently we find no ground whatever to blame Downing Street with what ought to be laid at the door of authorities nearer home.

On the Coal Fields of the North Pacific Coast.

[Abstract of a paper read by Robert Brown, Esq., F.R.G.S., before the Edinburg Geological Society.]

The Pacific Railroad being now nearly ready for traffic, it becomes of importance to inquire what are the fuel supplies—on the Pacific coast—to be relied upon to supply the fleets of steamers and the branch railways which will soon strike off from the main line into almost every valley and to every little mountain town. No doubt, coal might be brought round Cape Horn, as hitherto much of it has been, or across the plains with the railway, but both of these means of supply must necessarily be limited on account of the expense. It behooves us, therefore, to inquire somewhat narrowly what are the extent and nature of the native coal fields on the North Pacific coast. I must preface what I have to say by telling you that what notes I may have to lay before you, are the result of occasional observations in the course of my wanderings in the greater portion of certain regions—explored and unexplored—between California and Alaska during portions of the years 1863, 1864, 1865, and 1866. Though I shall have occasion now and then to refer to general geological questions, yet for the main part what I shall have to say will almost entirely be looked at from a coal supply point of view, and then as much with the eye of a physical geographer as that of a pure geologist.

Extending from the borders of California to Alaska are three coal fields belonging respectively to the tertiary, secondary, and palæozoic ages—the latter being situated, as far as yet known, only in the Queen Charlotte Islands, off the northern coast of British Columbia, the exact age being as yet undetermined, though the coal is anthratic and in all probability palæozoic. The other two coal fields are situated, as regards each other, from south to north in the order of their age. The tertiary extends from California northward through Oregon and Washington Territory, impinging the southern end of British Columbia and Vancouver Island, and extending, with some interruptions, right across the Rocky Mountains—the Miocene coals of Missouri being apparently only a continuation of these same beds. The secondary beds, on the other hand, on the North Pacific are confined to the island of Vancouver, though in all probability they are also a continuation of the cretaceous strata of Missouri. The tertiary lignites of the North Pacific are throughout of Miocene age, and are associated with beds of sandstone, shale, etc. It burns freely, but leaves behind much slag and ash. It has been wrought at various places on the coast. 1. Mount Diablo, California. Here 59,257 tons were mined last year from January to August, the coal selling for eight dollars per ton in San Francisco. At Benicia it was also mined, but has been discontinued. It analysis is—carbon, 50; volatile bituminous matter, 46; ash, 4. Coose Bay, Oregon Its analysis shows 46.44 per cent. of carbon, 50.27 of volatile matter, and 3.19 of ash. It percentage of coke is 49.73; but this is dark, friable, and of little value, It produces abundant gas, of low illuminating power. It is used to some extent in San Francisco, 7,759 tons having been imported from January to August, 1868. 3. Clallam Bay, Washington Territory. Several attempts have been made here to get good coal, but have failed to a great extent, owing to the want of a harbor. Analysis—carbon, 46.40; volatile matter, 50.97; ash, 2.63. 4. Bellingham Bay. Here the lignite has been mined for some years with success, though it is of no better quality than the others. From January to August, 1865, 5,610 tons were imported into San Francisco. Analysis—carbon, 47.63; bitumen, 50.22; ash, 2.15. Coal crops out at various other localities—Fraser River, Burrard Inlet, Islands of the Haro Archipelago, Saanich Peninsula, the northern (Vancouver) shores of De Fucas Strait, etc.—but has not been worked; and I am of opinion that all these out-crops are of tertiary age, the second formation not appearing south of the Chemainus river. There are newer (Pleistocene, or perhaps recent) ignites in the cliffs of Useless Bay, Whidby's Island, associated with remains of the mastodon, a tradition of the existence of which animal still lingers among the Indian tribes. This lignite is in small quantity, and quite worthless for fuel. The whole coast of Vancouver on the east cast, north of Chemainus, is bounded by a belt of carboniferous strata, composed of sandstone, shale and coarse gravelstone conglomerates, interstratified with which are beds of coal of a much superior character to any hitherto described. These beds from the contained fossils appear to be cretaceous. Everywhere the strata named form a characteristic accompaniment of the coal (especially this coarse conglomerate) and nearly everywhere it is underlaid by one or more seams of coal cropping out at some point on the circuit named, though it may reasonably be supposed yet to be found on the opposite shores of British Columbia. Out-crops are seen on some of the coast-lying islands, etc.; but it is only Nanaimo where it is wrought to any extent, this being the only mine in Vancouver Island (or in the British North Pacific territories) exporting coal. Here is a village of 500 inhabitants and some fifty miners. Last year the company exported 43,778 tons, and declared a divided of 15 per cent. The coal is bright, tolerably hard, and not unlike some of the best qualities of English coal. It is used all over the coast for steaming and domestic purposes. It brings eleven dollars per ton in Victoria, and thirteen in San Francisco. An analysis gives carbon. 66.93; nitrogen, 1.02; sulphur, 2.20; oxygen, 8.70; ash, 15.83. The fossil remains were then described. North of Nanaimo, on Brown's River, immense seams of coal have been discovered by myself and party; on Salmon River the Indians report coal; at Sukwash, near Fort Rupert, coal appears; and at Koskeemo Sound, on the western shore, are extensive undeveloped fields of what will ultimately, no doubt, prove the best coal in Vancouver Island, both from its quality and easy shipment. The latter, on analysis, gave carbon, 66.15; hydrogen, 4 70; nitrogen, 1.25; sulpher, 0.80; oxygen, 13.59; ash, 13 60. Other coal fields will no doubt be discovered as exploration proceeds, but the country is so covered with dense forests of undergrowth as to render exploration very difficult. The anthracite is found on the Queen Charlotte Islands, off the north coast of British Columbia. The beds are much broken up by faults, felspathic trap dykes, and other disturbing influences, so that to work it will always be expensive and troublesome. Still, the value of the discovery is of the highest importance to the coast. The coal is associated with conglomerates, a fine hard slate, out of which the Hydah Indians carve the pipes and other ornaments so common in the European museums, and metamorphosed sandstones. On first sight I was inclined to believe it only debituminized cretaceous coal, but from the fossils recently discovered I am induced to change that opinion and to believe it of palæzoic age. An analysis gave—carbon, 71.20; moisture, 5.10; volatile combustible matter, 7.27; ash, 6.43. The only good or extensive coal fields in the North Pacific are, therefore, within the English colonies of Vancouver Island and British Columbia, and in the possession of these coal fields these States, at present so depressed, have a mine of wealth which, if judiciously managed, will ultimately render them the seat of busy industry.

DR. CHING FUN—A CARD—EDITOR STANDARD:—Through the medium of your paper I want to state the very great good that has been done me by Dr. Ching Fun of this city, next door Kwong Lee & Co. For 24 years I suffered with neuralgia on the brain, which baffled the skull of three first-class American physicians. Latterly bronchitis attacked my right lung, and my eyes became awfully inflamed. Despairing of ever being cured I placed myself as a last resort in the hands of Dr. Ching Fun, and after five months treatment I am a well man and feel that I cannot sound the eminent Chinese gentleman's praises too loudly, so that all my countrymen similarly affected may visit him and find relief. Respectfully,
JOHN HENTON, of Kentucky, U. S.

FOR THE SHOW.—We are informed by Capt. Starr, that a large number of people intend coming over from the Sound on Monday, for the purpose of seeing the agricultural show. They will remain over until Friday, when they will return on the Isabel to their homes. The show this year, if the weather continues fine, will be the largest and best which has ever taken place in the Colony.

FOR PUGET SOUND.—The steamer Isabel, Capt Starr, left for Puget Sound yesterday morning, at 11 o'clock with about 50 passengers. She will connect with the Alida at Port Pownsend for all the ports on Puget Sound. The passenger traffic, we are informed by Capt. Starr is increasing every trip. The last trip down the Sound of the Alida, she had as many passengers as could conveniently get standing room.

AUCTION SALE.—Yesterday Messrs. Davies & Co. held a large Underwriter's sale of goods damaged on the voyage of importation from England, ex-Corsair. The goods sold realized good prices, and the sale was largely attended by purchasers. The next sale will be held to-day, by order of the Sheriff, at the Queen's Head Hotel.

GENERAL SHERMAN.—It will be seen by our telegraphic dispatches of last night, from Portland, that General Sherman intends to start, to-day, from Portland for Kelton, Utah, via the Columbia river. Therefore the good people of Puget Sound will be disappointed at not seeing the big war chief.

THE repairing party of the Telegraph Company arrived in town yesterday, from Saanich. They started at the commencement of the summer, from Portland, and have been working on the line ever since. The line, now, is in better working order than it has been since it was built.

THE BALL.—The ball at the Alhambra, last night was quite a brilliant affair. There were a large number of ladies and gentlemen present. The music was splendid, and dancing was kept up until an early hour this morning. The supper which was prepared by Mons. Driard gave general satisfaction.

A NEW RESIDENT.—We understand that Capt. Starr's brother has purchased a residence, in this city, and intends to settle here permantly. He will shortly remove his family here from Portland.

QUICK WORK.—The Idaho took on board 400 tons of coal at Nanaimo, trimmed it, and started off to sea in one day and three hours, from the time of her arrival at Nanaimo until her departure.

BOARDING HOUSE, VIEW STREET ABOVE DOUGLAS.—Mrs. Ridgway informs her friends and the public, that she is now prepared to provide them with good board and lodging. The table is supplied with the very best. *

CISTERN.—The cistern at the corner of Fort and Blanchard streets, which has recently been built by the Corporation, is ready for the use of the Fire Department, as soon as it is filled with water.

STEALING.—R. A. Symonds was charged in the Police Court, yesterday morning, with stealing some lead pipe, valued at $2 50. The prisoner was remanded for one day, for further evidence.

SCHOOL TAX.—Several cases of School Tax were heard yesterday by Mr. Pemberton, who ordered the parties to pay. Several other parties were summoned, and paid the amount into court.

THE steamer Grappler towed the bark Corsair around to Esquimalt yesterday, where she will discharge a quantity of naval stores, which she has on board.

THE MAGIC SOAP.—Messrs. Robinson & McDonald have manufactured some fancy toilet soap, for exhibition at the coming Fair. It is good soap and neatly got up.

Theme.

EDITOR STANDARD:—Virtues are plants exotic to humanity; and when we see them thriving with tropical exuberancy in an individual, or in a people, we may safely attribute the development to judicious training and favorable circumstances. Now, while British Columbians cannot, as a body, with justice lay claim to the whole catalogue of graces which adorn and beautify men's lives, they yet possess in such a pre-eminent degree the virtue of patience, that one is prone to think that they have passed the Rubicon of endurance, where it ceases to be a virtue. A series of governors and governments have so strained the Job-like faculties of the people, that one would imagine the tension to be so complete as to afford no room for further pressure by the gentleman who in so dignified a manner represents here Her Britannic Majesty.

As if viewing with satisfaction the mis rule of their predecessors in the past, the Government endeavor, and with considerable success to out-Herod, Herod by their efforts in the present, whilst to the mind of His Excellency there appears to present itself, as the acme of legislative ability, a tomb-like reticence on matters of import to the public, of which it is his province and duty to give information. At the eleventh hour he has been pleased to inform us upon what terms we may be confederated with the Dominion of Canada; but with a pertinacity which, if well directed, would be commendable, he withholds from the people the new constitution which has been conferred upon the Colony.

The general election for the Legislature will shortly take place; it is therefore highly desirable that i s exact date should be made known; also the new constitution and with it the qualifications of electors.

The furnishing of such information would not affect His Excellency's dignity, nor would it detract from his popularity. I question if it would at all alter existing opinions

Verily, we are a patient people.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Nevada.

CAPISTRANO, VIRGINIA, Sept. 22.—George Elliott had his right hand nearly severed from his arm, just above the wrist, by a circular saw.

Burglaries are quite frequent here of late.

PLACERVILLE, Sept. 22.—Wm. Williams, alias McCarty, was shot and killed instantly this morning by constable Bailey, who was attempting to arrest him on a charge of robbery. Williams attempted to draw a weapon in resisting arrest, when Bailey fired with the above result.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Notwithstanding the unpleasant weather this evening, the French Sanitary Fair opens with a very large attendance. The Committee have raised over $37,000, and remitted $35,000 to France The monthly subscriptions amount to $600 for the entire duration of the war, whether it be long or short.

California.

LOS ANGELOS, Sept. 22.—Last night at a citizens' meeting nearly $700 were subscribed to build a new road to Soledan and Cerro Gordo mining districts.

A new town, christened Newport, has been laid out near the newly-discovered landing between Anaheille and San Juan.

The railroad agent's excursion went outside the heads on a steamer. On their return they passed up through Racon straits, then back to the P. M. S. S. Co.'s wharf, and took a repast on the steamer American, the excursion winding up with a ball. They leave to morrow, for the East, by special train, which is to cross the Sierras by daylight

Felix McDonald, who was tried for rape, and convicted, in the old County Court, and sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the State Prison, and subsequently granted a new trial, was, to-day, discharged on nolle prosequi, the witnesses, on behalf of the people, having left the State.

Over $7,500 was realized at the French Sanitary Festival, last evening, and they expect to realize fully $40,000 for the three days, including the donations.

A freight train to Sacramento, on the Vallejo railroad, ran over a cow, this morning, six miles from Vallejo, and the engine and eight cars were thrown down a fifteen feet embankment. The wreck of the engine and cars is complete. Conductor Briggs, who was in the tender, had his right leg broken in two places, and his left knee smashed to a jelly, besides being severly bruised all over. His injuries are thought to be of a fatal character. Charles Darmot, engineer, and Jones, firemen, were both badly injured.

Oregon.

SALEM, Sept. 22.—A destructive fire occurred here at 4 o'clock, p. m., to-day. The sash a door factory of Booth, Stapleton & Brothers, Drake's iron foundary and machine shop, a dwelling house, a blanksmith shop, and other small buildings were destroyed. The damages are estimated at $30,000, and no insurance. This is the most serious fire which has occurred in Salem for years.

The City Council has invited Gen. Sherman to visit Salem.

In the Legislature, this afternoon, there was considerable discussion, in which Gen. Sherman was denounced as a monster, by some of the members. The House passed a resolution, inviting the General to visit the capital. The Senate, however, refused to concur. The argument of the Democrats being, that civil authorities were paramount to the military.

PORTLAND.—Gen. Sherman set out to visit Fort Vancouver, yesterday morning, but, owing to the high wind, it was impossible to cross the Columbia, to the great disappointment of the citizens of Vancouver. He was serenaded last night. The General will leave to-morrow, for Kelton, via the Columbia river.

The woods at the back of the city are on fire, and much valuable timber is being destroyed.

Another section of 20 miles. of the Oregon and California railroad is ready for inspection by the United States Commissioners. About thirty miles are, in fact, ready for inspection. It is expected that another section of 20 miles, will be inspected in a few days.

Very strong N.E. winds prevailed here today, raising clouds of dust.

There is going to be an effort made to pass a bill through the Legislature, to establish a State National Guard, similar to that of California.

The Oro Fino has been rented, this week, for the season.

Europe

WENDELSHEIM, Sept. 23.—The seige of Strasbourg is vigorously pushed. Lunette, No. 53, was taken by the Prussians to-day, with trifling loss. They captured 5 guns.

Rumors are afloat of the capture of Strasbourg, but they lack official confirmation.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—It is announced on dubious authority that the Emperor Napoleon intends issuing a manifesto, and that the French Senate is to meet at Enteges.

TOURS, Sept. 23.—Fighting near Paris continues with varying results. There have been no important engagements reported.

The occupation of Orleans by the Prussians is not confirmed.

It is rumoured that Lyons will be made the capital of France.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The telegraph asserts that the Prussians have been repulsed in the last assault upon Toul, and that they have abandoned the seige and are marching to join the army around Paris.

PARIS, Sept. 16, VIA LONDON, 22d.—An impression now prevails that it will be necessary to separate the political from the military question, as there are two different powers in Paris, one official, the Provisional Government, which satisfies nobody; the second is the Central Republican Committee. In every arrondissement this committee is in constant communication with the population. A special committee of five remain in permanently day and night. At the sittings of the Assembly this committee constitutes the commune of Paris.

The revolutionary element in Paris is making itself disagreeably conspicuous.

CALAIS, Sept. 21.—The main portion of the French fleet is here.

TOURS, Sept. 21.—Information received here destroys all hope of peace. The Prussian King positively refuses an armistice, and will make peace only on condition of retaining possession of districts occupied until terms are ratified by a Constitutional Assembly.

Although the question of terms is not yet reached, Favre informed his associates in the government that the cession of Alsace will certainly be the ultimatum of Prussia, and he has little hope of the success of his mission.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—A Havre telegram tonight says fresh complications have arisen between Russia and Turkey, and that war between the two Powers is probable.

A Paris letter of the 20th says the action of the extreme Republicans on Saturday and Sunday was disgraceful. Demonstrations occurred in several parts of the city. Noisy and dangerous crowds assembled in different quarters, and large numbers of roughs were armed, and some cases of violence committed. In one instance a storehouse was broken open and provisions seized, under the pretense of authority from the Commissioner of Defence. On Sunday night terror prevailed among the better classes of people. On Monday a large force of the National Guard, regulars and marines, from the forts, marched into the city to preserve order. There is little doubts but an amnesty will be made before long by the extreme party, to seize and control the Government. It is difficult to say when the end will be.

Lyons and Paris are not in political accordance. The great cities of France refuse to be bound by the action of the capital if it capitulates.

The report from Tours that Thiers obtained from England a recognition of the Provisional Government, is not believed here. We must wait and see what the Constituent Assembly decides to do in Tours. The belief is that no negotiations for peace are likely to succeed until military events before Paris assume a decisive turn.

The armament of the fortification of Lille is completed.

The Tribune's correspondent has arrived from Lyons, and brings an important account of the internal condition of France.

The reported insurrection at Lyons against the Parisian Government is not true. A municipal election was held on the 15th inst. It returned many of the Independents to the Council. They are mostly members of the International Working men's Association, who fly the red flag. They distrust Trochu and Favre, but do not reject the Provisional Government. The town was quiet, except the incessant cannon practice. The whole male population, and an army of 50,000 men from the Rhine valley, were throwing up earth works at Lyons, determined to resist if attacked. There were 40,000 regulars in the city.

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—Official advices from headquarters report Jules Favre as presenting the first point for consideration—whether the Constituent Assembly about to be chosen could be relied on to recognize a treaty made with Favre as binding on the Government? Favre is understood to offer Alsace as indemnity for the cost of the war; the demolition of the fortifications of Metz and Strasbourg, and the surrender of part of the French fleet.

The French expect the Prussians will march from Beouvais on Rouen and Amiens, and so cut off North-eastern France.

FLORENCE, Sept. 22.—A portion of Rome, called Leonine City, on the right bank of the Tiber, containing the Vatican and Castle of Stangelo, is not occupied by the Italian troops. It is doubtful if the Pope is in Rome.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The Prussian Moniteur, an official organ, published at Berlin, contains, this morning, two notes from Bismarck to the Ambassadors of Neutral Powers, to the North German Confederation. The first note is dated September 13th; it urges the necessity of a better and more material guarantee against any new attack by the French, and especially upon the States of South Germany, Bavaria, Wurtemburg and Baden. In the second note, Bismarck repudiates all idea of German intervention for the re-organization of France. But says, if Strasbourg and Metz are retained in French hands, the power offensive of France will be superior to the power defensive of Germany.

TOURS, Sept. 23.—Balloons are still in active use, enabling the military authorities to keeep a sharp watch on the movements of the Prussians. Another balloon, from Marshall Bazaines headquarters at Metz, has fallen within the territory controled by the French. The balloon contained 137 letters. It seems that butchers meat is very dear at Metz, and the army and citizens, consequently, are eating horse flesh. There is plenty of provisions, other than meat.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The Times publishes a telegram from Berlin, dated yesterday, which says, Bismarck and Jules Favre were closited all day on Thursday The former insisted on a meeting of the Constituents Assembly to ratify the treaty. Favre conceeded, as an indemnity for the cost of war, the surrender of part of the fleet, the dismantling of Metz, Strasbourg, and possibly other fortresses.

FLORENCE, Sept. 23.—Yesterday a conflict occurred in Learinine city, between the Italian soldiers and a mob.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Couriers just in from the vicinity of Paris, report that a very severe battle occurred, yesterday, at a point south of that city. The French forces, in heavy columns, met the Prussians, who were posted in force. The former were repulsed with great loss.

A Berlin telegram has the following intelligence: The Russians are in motion to seize the Black Sea, and probably the Dardanelles. War between the Carz and Sultan is imminent.

Following dispatch is just received: The Prussian guns at Sceaux now command the southern part of Paris. The Prussians have arrived at St. Dennis, near the northern boundary. The railroad is finished around Paris forts. Arrangements have been made at Littey, where a complete inundation of the surrounding country can be made in twelve hours. The Prussians have occupied Dauden, eighteen miles west of Versailles. No Prussians are kept anywhere in the department of the Aube.

NEW YORK, Sept 23—A London special telegraphs the particulars of a meeting between Favre and Bismarck, in Chatteau Thirry. Bismarck opened the subject of peace negotiations at once. No result was reached, but in the course of the discussion Favre asserted that the Provisional Government could put Prussia in possession of such material guarantees as would make it certain that she could lose nothing by the effort for peace, even should the Constituent Assembly reject the treaty that might be agreed on. He also declared that the Commanders at Metz and Strasbourg would obey any orders his Government might issue to them. In London there were some expectations that peace would be concluded on the basis of the temporary occupation of Alsace and Lorraine by the Prussians, and by the surrender of Metz and Strasboug. In commercial circles, however, the hope of peace is nearly abated. Prussia will insist on terms which no French Government would at present dare to accede to. The Prussians are apparently preparing to move on Orleans, which the French have evacuated. Tours is threatened by the Uhlans at Orleans and Bloiz.

FLORENCE, Sept. 23.—Rome is now completely occupied by the Italian troops. The Pope was permitted to retain a guard composed of his late troops. The rest of his army is dispersed. The prisoners taken by the Italian troops, on the capitulation of the Papal army, number about 9,300, consisting of 4,800 Italians and 4,500 foreigners.

Gen. Garibaldi is still a prisoner on the Island of Caprera. Italian war vessels cruising about prevent his escape to France.

Eastern States.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The Tribune this morning says, editorially, that Senator O. P. Morton, of Indiana, was about a week ago appointed Minister to England. He promptly accepted the appointment, but requested that the whole matter should be kept secret until Gov. Baker should have time for consideration, and be untrammelled in the appointment of his successor.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—There is the best authority for saying that there is no truth in the published statement that our Government has instructed Washburne that it can do nothing whatever to mitigate the suffering of expelled Germans. Washburne, under instructions and permission of the State Department, has offered relief and mitigated the sufferings of many thousand Germans expelled from Paris.

T. N. HIBBEN & Co. having for a period of years appropriated a certain class of books for a Circulating Library, more for accommodation than profit, have by a fair experiment tested that in consequence of the destroyed and missing numbers issued, the result to them has been a positive loss. MAGIC SOAP.

Directions for Using Robinson's Magic Soap for doing a Large Family Washing in Two Hours, of Five or Six Dozen Pieces.

1. Cut up fine a bar of the Soap, and put one-half of it into your boiler with sufficient water to cover well your white clothes to be washed, and let the Soap dissolve; then put your clothes in, stirring them, and let them just come to a boil; then pour out clothes and water into a tub and let them soak twenty or thirty minutes, stirring them round in the tub occasionally to loosen the dirt. Such articles as collars, wristbands or any article very dirty, should be rubbed through the hands a little while soaking in order to thoroughly loosen the dirt before boiling.

2. While your clothes are soaking put the other half of your cut Soap into your boiler, with sufficient clean water to boil, and let it be heating. After your clothes have soaked wring them out well and put into your boiling water, and let boil from 5 to 10 minutes; then rinse, blue and hang out to dry. If the above directions are followed, we will guarantee your clothes clean and white.

3. For your colored and woollen clothes use the same water you soaked and boil your white clothes with, only heating it up again, and pour it over your colored and woollen clothes, and let soak the same as your white clothes, also rubbing them through your hands while soaking, if very dirty. Then rinse in clear water, warm as your hands will bear, and you will thus accomplish a large washing in two hours.

By cutting up a bar of this Soap into two gallons water, and let boil until thoroughly dissolved, and then leave to cool, you will have two gallons of beautiful SOFT SOAP, as good as Common Soap for general house purposes.
